

Lifecycle Overview

AmpliFund is the leading purpose-built grant management software empowering state, local, and tribal governments to manage every phase of the grant lifecycle from application through closeout.

Grants are complicated. When you're providing funding, managing your own funding, and monitoring subrecipients, it's all too easy to miss important deadlines. Records and documents pile up fast, and compliance and reporting demands force you to concentrate on the data in front of you instead of the bigger picture.

You need a partner in your corner that understands federal guidance, and one that can give you the resources you need to manage the complexity of your portfolio.

That's why AmpliFund was created by grants professionals, for grants professionals, and is designed to manage every aspect of your funding in one single solution. With the tools, resources, and exceptional support you get from AmpliFund, you can create capacity for your team, drive compliance, and realize the full potential of your funding.

AmpliFund's features support every aspect of your funding through the entire grant lifecycle – no matter how complex your portfolio is.

AmpliFund Lifecycle is the solution

AmpliFund helps you be a more efficient, transparent, and effective steward of the funds you've been trusted with.

AmpliFund has helped us rationalize the process and make sure we're reflecting on what is required for compliance so we're not gathering unnecessary information.

Now a lot more thought is going into what the basis for awarding is, and now we have a more objective system to enforce the rules that make the program a lot more effective.
